Dedication

To Mr. Skadan, the whole school's "coach".

Administration

School Board members: Mr. Archie Sheldon, Mr. Dick Henderson, Mr. J. B. Shropshire, Mr. Burke Thompson, President, and Mrs. Lorraine Paul, Clerk.

District Office

As in past years, Mr. Clayton A. Castle, our district superintendent, has helped solve many of our major and minor school problems and has helped to make our high school days ones we'll enjoy remembering.

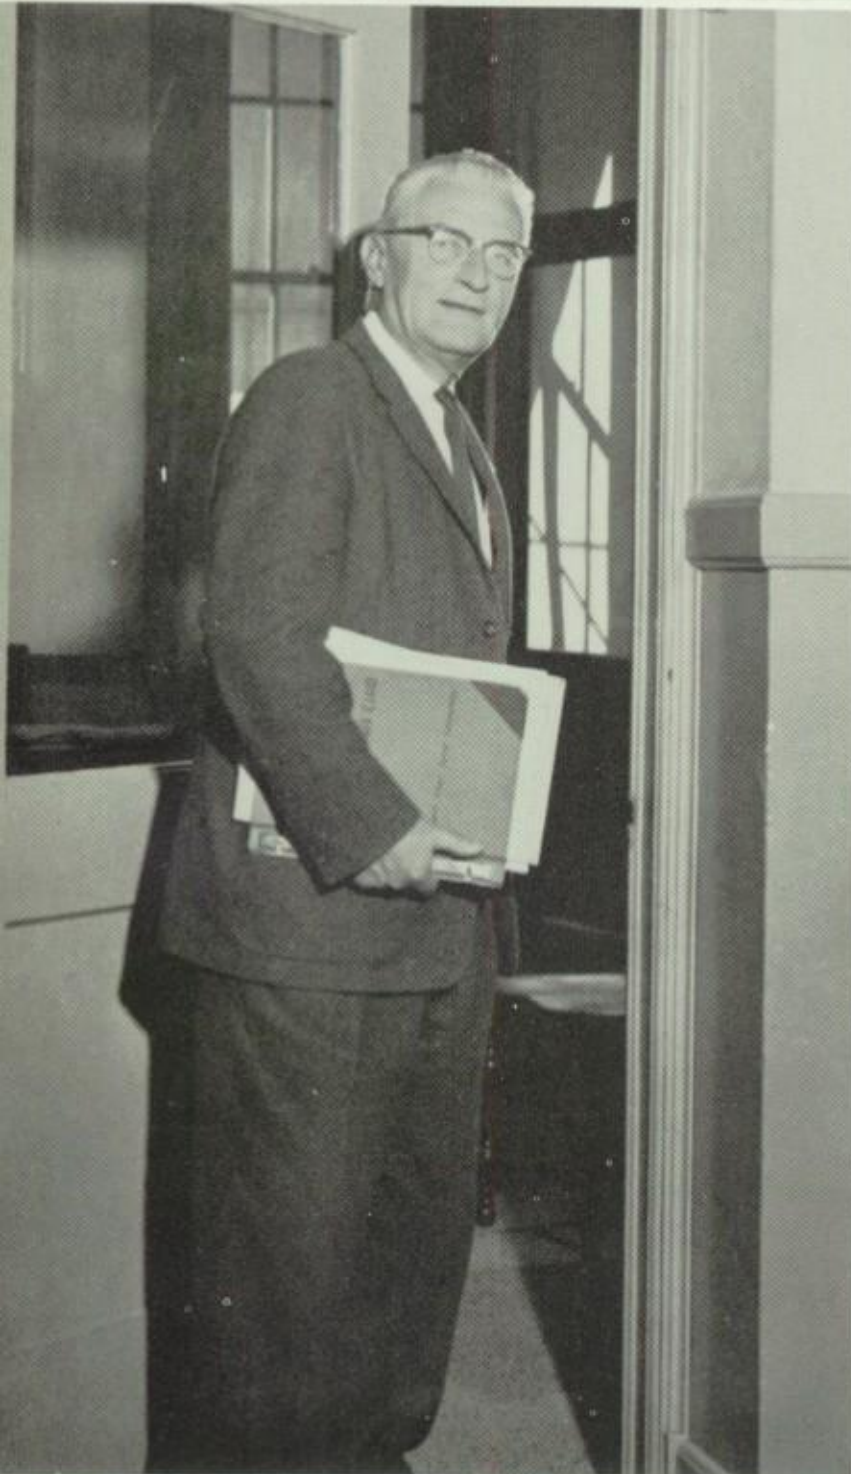

He was responsible for not only the general efficiency of our school system but for those of the grammar schools and the Junior High School as well. He took charge of preparing the school budget which made possible the many school activities we had this past year.

Mrs. Elva Bequette, our District Secretary and Secretary of the Board of Trustees, and Mrs. Virginia Green, the Accounting Clerk, assisted Mr. Castle in his many duties and added to the efficiency of our school system.

Adjacent to Mr. Castle's office was the office of the school nurse, Mrs. Marie Herbage, who took care of all the student injuries during the year.

The five members of the Board of Trustees made up the backbone of our school system and were the basic factors in making the successful school year it was.

We wish to express our appreciation to all those who helped make this a successful year at L. H. S.

Mr. Clayton A. Castle, District Superintendent.

Mrs. Virginia Green, Accounting Clerk, and Mrs. Elva Bequette, District Secretary.

Mr. Thomas Cahraman, Principal

Principal's Office

This will surely be remembered as one of Lindsay High School's best years. As the year progressed, it became increasingly evident that our students would be outstanding in many areas — in scholarship, sports, activities, and citizenship. Our theme for the year was Courtesy. It was gratifying to see the wonderful response on the part of the student body.

I would like to thank and congratulate everyone who helped make this year a success. To the seniors we wish every happiness in the years to follow. Be loyal to your alma mater and visit us when you have time, for we will not forget the class of 1960. To the juniors, sophomores and freshmen, we wish every educational advantage in your precious high school years to follow.

Special recognition and thanks should be given to President Rodger Hembree and the Student Council for their leadership in promoting increased student body responsibility for good conduct and self government. Hearty thanks to the parents, the Superintendent, and the Board of Trustees for their significant and continued help. Finally, I would like to thank the wonderful faculty we have for their cheerful cooperation and hard work.

Congratulations to all of you!

Thomas P. Cahraman

Junior Class

The Junior class scrimped and saved their money for three years, and then, in one wild splurge, spent it all on the annual Jr.-Sr. Banquet and Prom. The results were well worth the expenditure for they came up with one of the most outstanding proms ever.

To earn money for this project, the Juniors had cake sales, ran the food booth at the Strathmore football game, sponsored the Junior Play, and just plain begged.

The class officers were led by Bill Losh, president, who ably represented them on the Student Council. Other officers were: Bobby Holmes, vice pres., Joyce Pepper, sec., and Yoshi Suko, treasurer.

They were guided and kept under control by Mr. Hanigan, Mr. Coles, Miss Cowsert and Mr. Meneze.

Sophomore Class

There were a lot of last minute preparations, but the Sophomore Amateur Hour came through in a grand blaze of glory. Nothing but praise was heard from all who attended. It grossed more than any previous program of that type ever had before. All of the students of the tenth grade class were proud to be a part of the class which presented it.

Other money making projects were carried out with great zeal. Cakes of all colors and decorations were placed on a table in the main hall and, when the crowds cleared away, not a crumb was left. As an extra accessory to their treasury, members of the class could often be found on the eve of the football games peddling their wares in foods. All of their profits of the projects have been designated to the treasury to prepare for their part in the Jr. Sr. Prom next year.

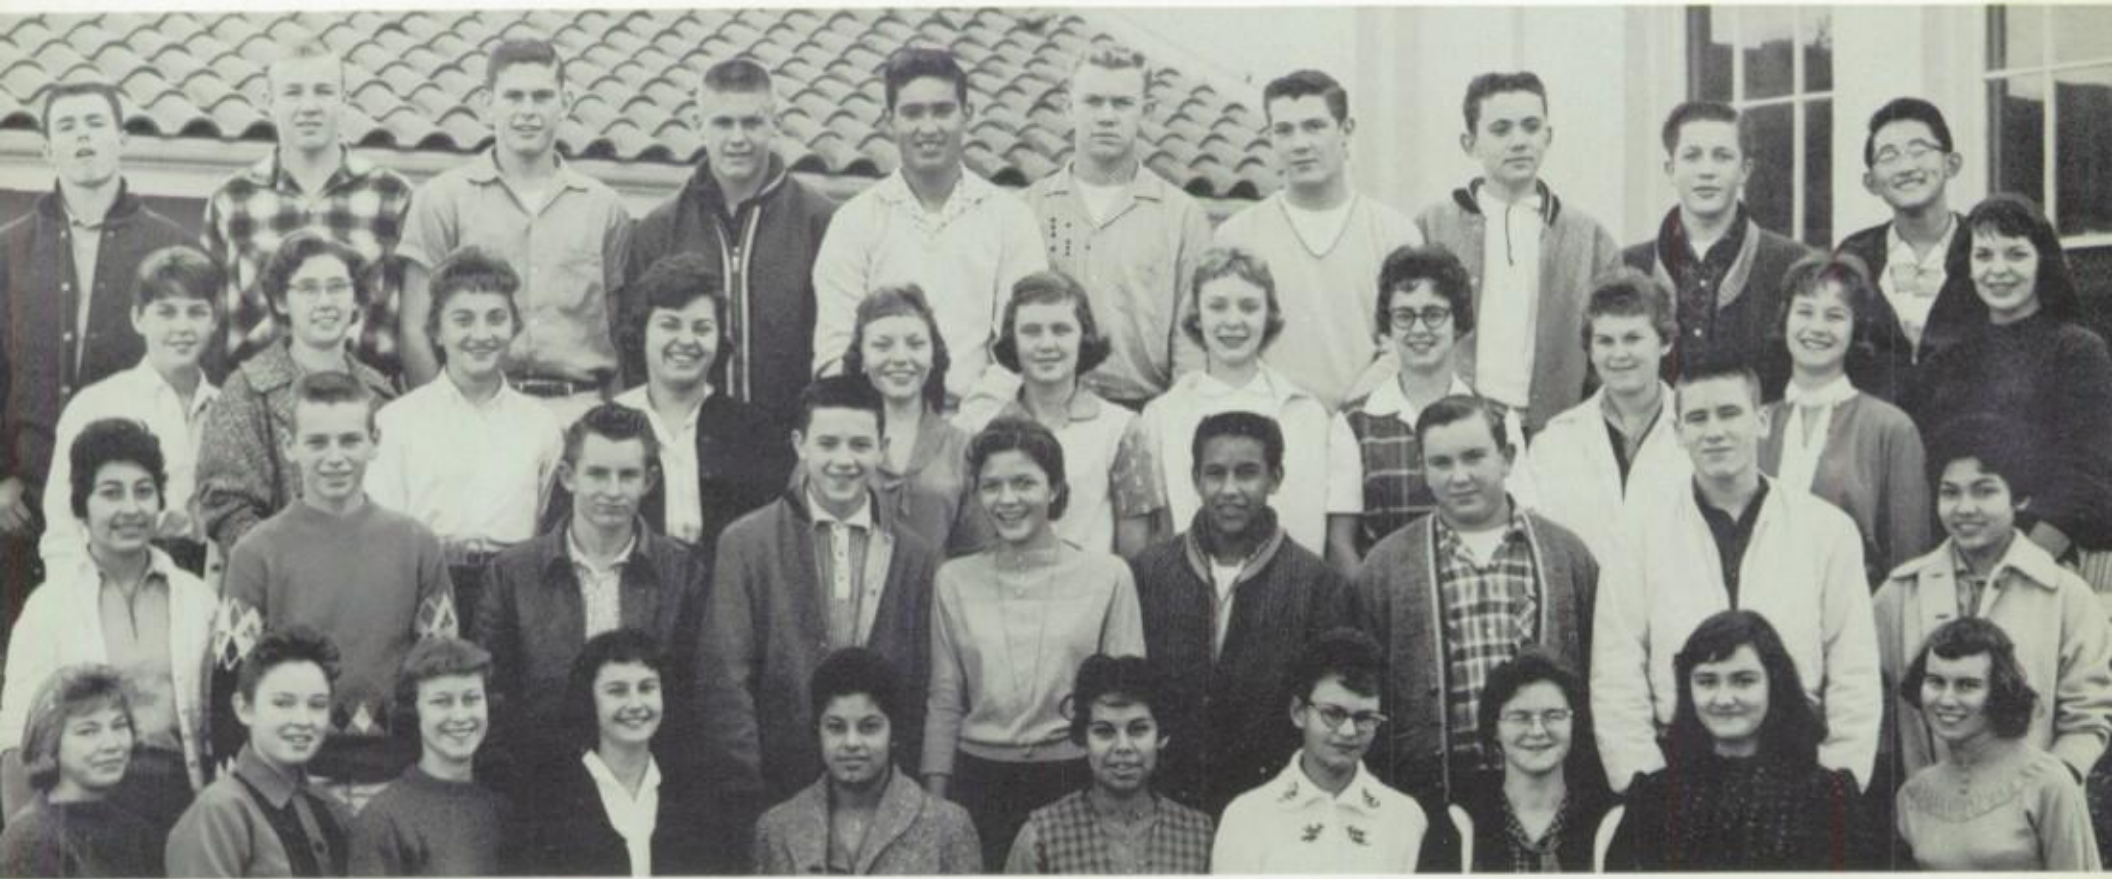

This class has been guided with the very capable assistance of Mrs. Mary Luna, Mr. Frank Skadan, Mr. Maurice Bettisworth, and Mr. Vernon Bridges.

Freshman Class

This year's Freshman Class was the busiest ever. They had cake sales, put on after-game dances, had a car wash, ran a go-kart booth and painted the "L".

Painting the "L" was the big project for the Frosh this year. Although it was done differently this year, it seems that the Frosh who went had more fun than ever before.

Helping and advising the Frosh on their activities were: Mr. Maichrowicz, Mr. Padilla, Mr. Flattly, Mr. Roach, and Mrs. Boyes. The Freshman Council was made up of: Eddie Valenzuela — president, Roslyn Leewright — vice-president, Patricia Barker — secretary, Beverly Thomas — Treasurer, and Judy Embree — social chairman. There were also nine representatives which made up a council of fourteen members.

The reason they had (and needed) such a big council was that the Freshmen had the largest class in school. They had one-hundred and fifty nine Freshmen. With so many kids running around, they naturally had the most fun (?), and were the most energetic and willing.

Student Council

The Student Council is the main student governing board of L. H. S. Elected officers and representatives work for the students and speak for them in our weekly meetings. As president of the student body this past year, it has been my pleasure to lead those meetings and to have been a small part in helping to formulate some of the school's laws and policies.

We have been busy this year in the cabinet. We sponsored the Back-to-School Dance, the Christmas Formal and our newspaper, the Echoing L. We sent representatives to the Governor's Traffic Safety Council, C. A. S. C. meetings, and league cabinet meetings. For the first time, we reviewed cases of reckless driving around school and recommended what action should be taken against the offenders. Also a special committee of members revised the Student Body Constitution bringing it up to date.

We wish to thank all the faculty for their help during the past year, and a special vote of thanks goes to our advisor and principal, Mr. Tom Cahraman.

All of the Student Council members of the past year are grateful for the chance to carry on the work of governing the school, and we feel sure that we will be better citizens because of it.

Comet

The Comet was spectacularly named in 1910 when Halley's Comet appeared. However, Halley's Comet appears only once every 75 years while ours appears annually. It was, unfortunately, interrupted once in 1918. It has not been stopped since.

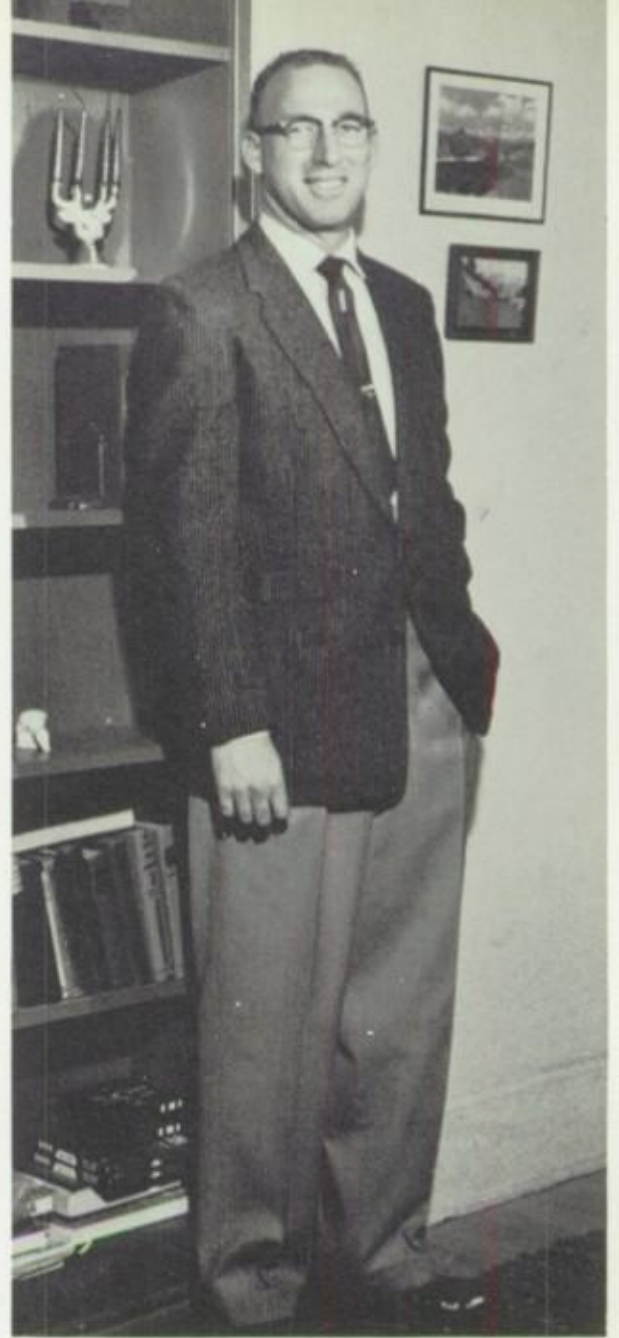

And now the latest in a long line of forty-nine Comets appears. We hope it pleases you as much as its ancestors pleased other L. H. S.'ers.

Of course, we have trillions of people to thank for their help in making this book possible. High on the list is Charles M. Schulz, creator of "Peanuts." He and his little pals, Charlie Brown, Lucy, Linus, Schroeder, Violet and Patty have been a considerable help.

Also Jim Lusk, our excellent photographer, the Lindsay Gazette, who gave us our action shots for the football page, and Mr. Durbin, our ever-faithful advisor, deserve a special vote of thanks.

Here is our Comet; enjoy yourselves.

Mr. Leroy Roach, the Chorus' director.

Chorus

Our fine chorus under the able direction of Mr. Leroy Roach has been a boon to our school. It is composed of about nineteen students, all interested in the furthering of musical appreciation. We all look forward to their appearances with great pleasure.

They have performed at the request of many of the leading groups of this community including the Kiwanis and the Parent-Teacher Association.

Not only do they strive for excellent performances, but they work toward a higher degree of musical information and appreciation. They have special classes conducted in these very basic sections of music.

All of their fine work is aimed toward the ultimate goal in the spring, the Spring Music Festival. The Festival is a fine exhibition of musical talents from many areas in which the Lindsay Band and Chorus has always rated high. Lindsay High can well be proud of its chorus.

Y-Teens

The Y-teens, junior members of the Y.W.C.A., have been as active and energetic as those proverbial bees. Headed by their advisor, Mrs. Marie Herbage, and President Joan Anderson, they never seemed to stop going.

Their first meeting was an initiation for the new frosh members. Then in no time it seemed it was Recognition Night, which was held in the Baptist Church. After that, the boys were immediately asked to the Backward Banquet; there were, however, the inevitable squabbles when the underclassmen over-stepped their bounds and asked the senior boys before the senior girls had a chance!

They had a caroling party at Christmas, and later on in the year devoted themselves to their service project.

Their annual Carnival, the big money-making project, was a complete success. And so the season ended on a happy note, and thus completed one of the best Y-teen years ever.

C. S. F.

The C. S. F., which is short for the California Scholarship Federation, is an organization for the learned ones of our school.

To be eligible for membership in the organization, a student must have compiled ten points out of his semester grades. The grades are counted thus: an A equals three points, and a B equals two.

Once into the organization, there are many privileges for the members. There are two conferences, one in the Fall and one in the Spring, and a field day which is also held in the Spring. Besides the days off from school, a student holding a C. S. F. card is admitted to class without a tardy slip.

C. S. F. officers for the year were: Janet Shimasaki, president, Becky Williams, secretary, and Susan Webb, social chairman.

A. F. S.

The A.F.S. or American Field Service is the organization which made it possible for us to have our foreign exchange student, Morten Bakken, here.

Morten was presented with an American Field Service Scholarship, and the Girls' League provided the money to finance his trip.

The A.F.S. operates on a world wide scope, making it possible for students from different countries of the world to become acquainted with the teaching methods of different schools, the ways of social life enjoyed by young people, and the customs of the many countries of the world.

Although it would be impossible to have a foreign exchange student at Lindsay High without the help of the American Field Service, due credit should go to the Girls' League, for without their support it would have been impossible for Morten to be here.

A.F.S. members are: S. Jessup, H. Cairns, S. Webb, J. Anderson, S. Hartman, B. Thomas, P. Jackson, R. Leewright, B. Williams.

The Spanish Club carried on its activities this year under the guidance of a new advisor, Mr. Meneze. Meetings were held on the last Friday of each month, and many interesting programs were presented throughout the year.

Cake sales, food booths, and other money-raising projects were sponsored throughout the year to help augment the treasury. The Cinco de Mayo Banquet was the big social event of the year, and the Spanish Club also presented a Spanish assembly for the student body.

The Spanish Clubs of all the Spanish classes were directed by the Spanish Council, which was made up of all the officers and representatives of the various Spanish Clubs and was headed by the Spanish IV president. They handled all the problems that arose in the clubs and made it possible for the Spanish Clubs to run more smoothly and more efficiently.

The Latin class puzzles over a verb.

Mr. Louis Meneze, Latin and Spanish Clubs' advisor.

Latin Club

"Friends, Romans, and countrymen, lend me your ears," thus spake Lindsay High's Caesar, Mr. Louis Menze. And one period a day, five days a week, thirty-nine weeks a year, Mr. Meneze worked with 20 pairs of ears making their owners into true Romans.

The Latin Club was formed much the same as the Spanish Club. It met on the same day of the month, had the same officers, etc. Since it was such a small group (Latin I & Latin II classes were combined), there was no over-all council; rather the one class itself acted as the top council.

Again emulating the Spanish Club, the Latin Club had a banquet similar to the Cinco de Mayo event, and it seemed all the miniature Caesars, Mark Antonys and Calpurnias enjoyed themselves.

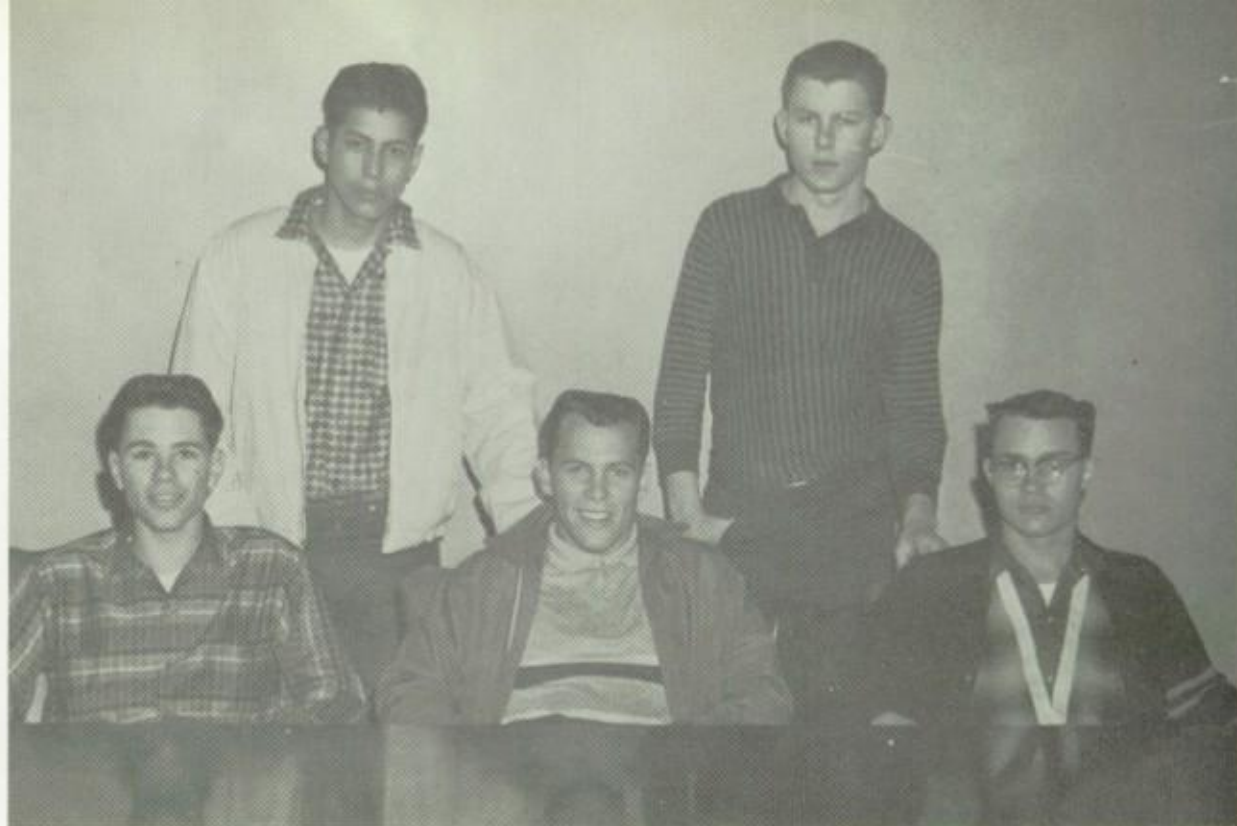

A solid basis in the Latin language is a good foundation upon which to base studies on other languages for, after all, Latin is the "mother" tongue. Our Latin students emerged from their years' studies with this solid foundation of learning.

Getting started late in the year, the Block L Honor Society for athletes didn't have a too active program. The organization is open to any boy who letters in a sport. One A class letter, two B class letters, and three C class letters made an athlete a member of the club.

Ron Oakley was elected the president of the Block L during a special meeting of the members. Other officers chosen were Doug Paul, vice-president, Dave Danielson, secretary, and Leonard Smith, treasurer.

The many sports of Lindsay High were represented in the group. Tennis, football, basketball, swimming, track, baseball — these were the many sports played by the skilled members of the club.

If you ever want to meet a Block L man, just look for honor sweaters loaded down with Block L letters.

You can't miss.

G. A. A.

"... The purpose of the G.A.A. shall be cooperation with all student body organizations; to promote athletic and social activities, and to foster the highest ideals of good sportsmanship and fine fellowship. . . ."

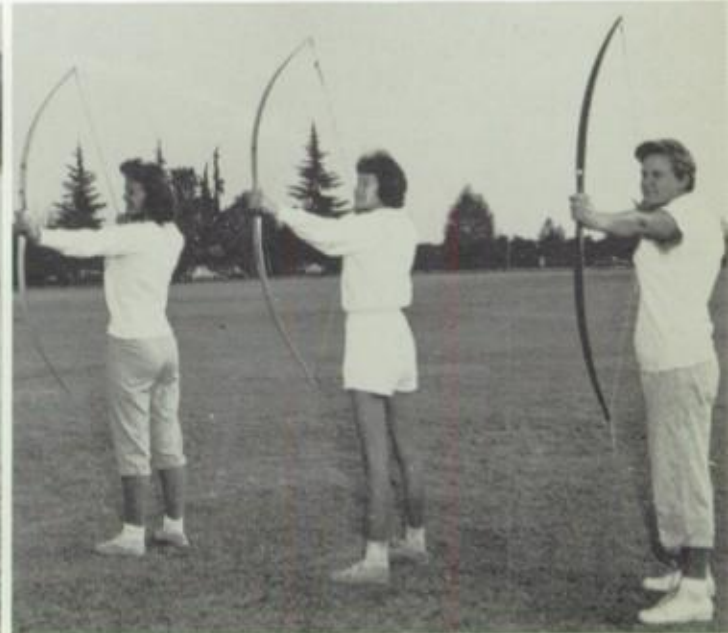

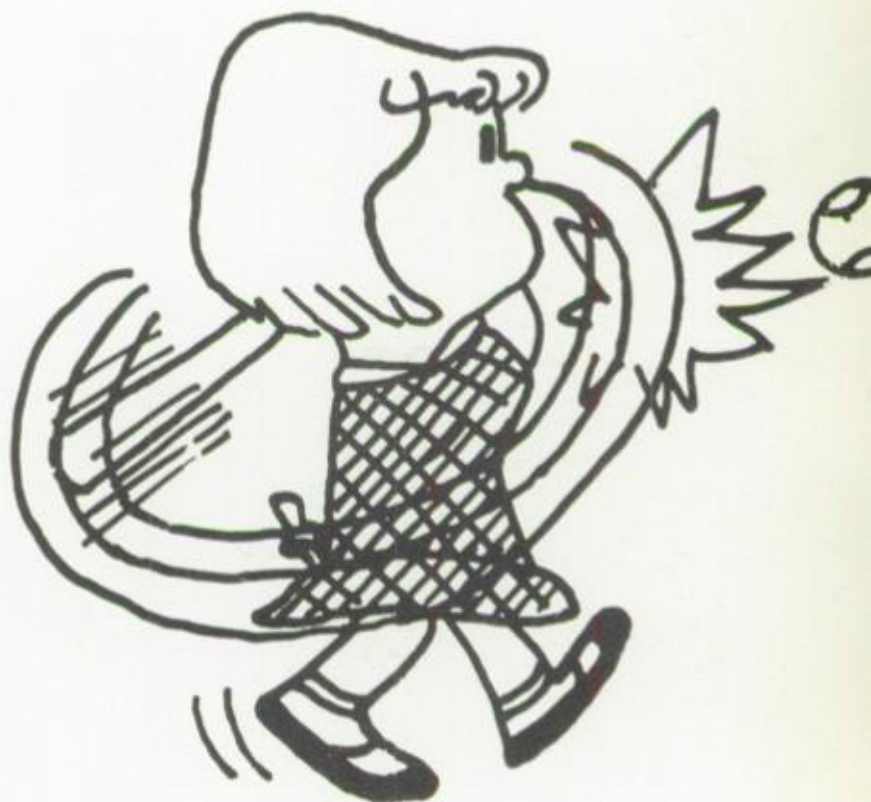

The G.A.A., advised by Mrs. Luna, worked vigorously and enthusiastically in cooperation with other student body clubs to improve the appearance of our auditorium by buying a new speaker's curtain.

Membership in the organization is open to the girls of Lindsay High School, and the organization meets every Tuesday and Thursday after school.

The main event of the year is the Christmas dinner. All the woman teachers and women officials of L.H.S. are invited to this dressy affair. The meal is cooked by the girls, and gifts and entertainment are provided after the dinner.

The officers are led by president Roberta McPhetridge.

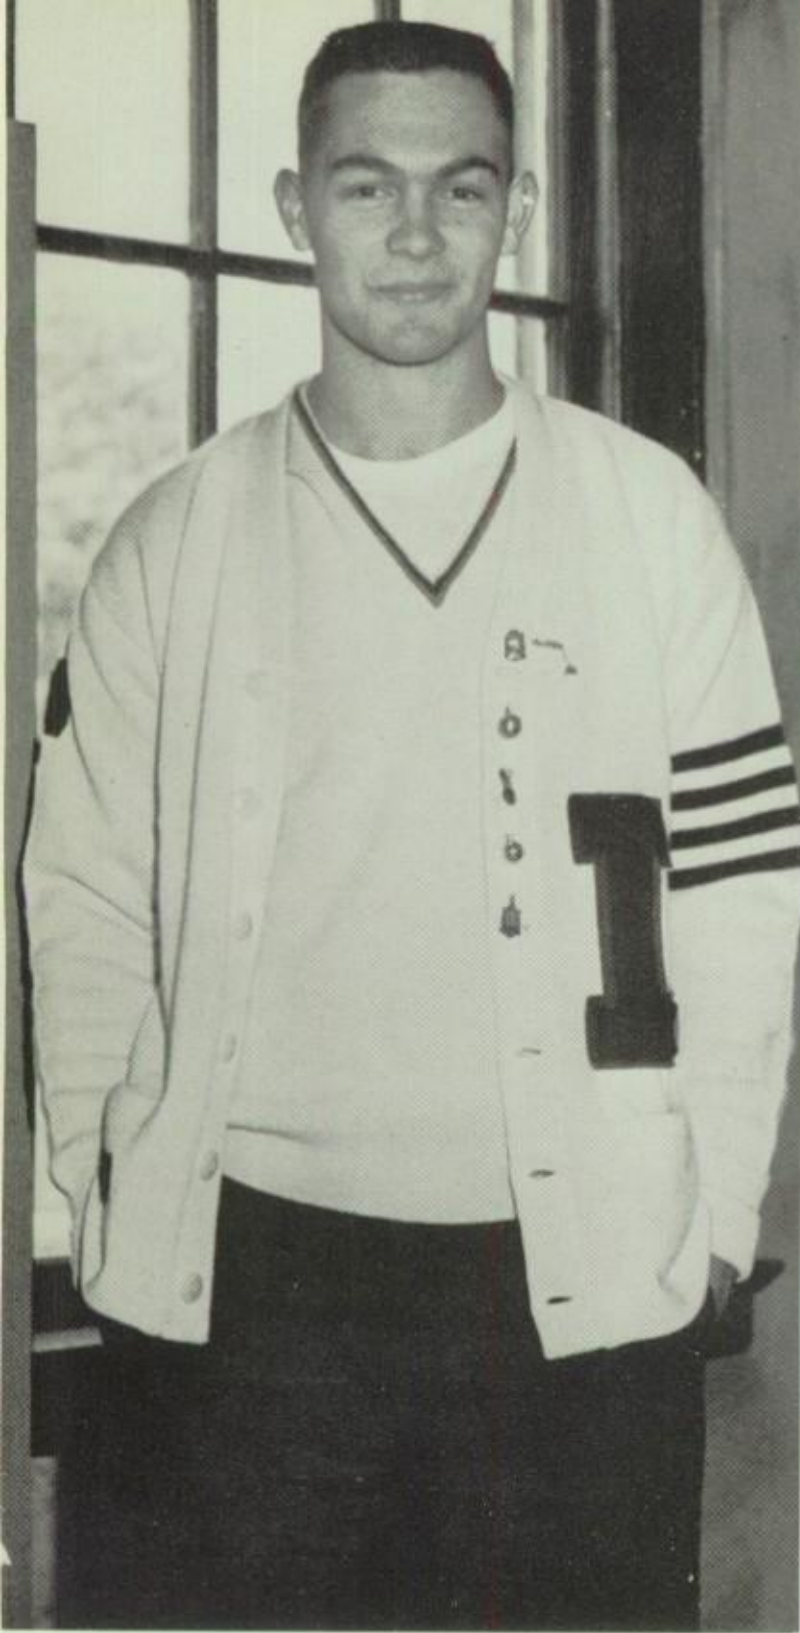

Every year the G.A.A. goes out for lots of fun in sports: basketball, volleyball, and playdays, and they live up to their standards of true sportsmanship.

Playing baseball are: L. Seibel, E. Morris, T. Gomez, W. Key.

The Boys' Federation is an organization composed of all the boys in Lindsay High School. Although not a very active organization in the way of meetings, assemblies, etc., they are very popular. You see, they give us gifts.

Every year, the Board of Trustees gives the Federation a sum of money to be used to repair any vandalism which occurs around school . . . vandalism such as the outbreak of painted "Zoros" (the vandals couldn't spell, either) that occurred two years ago. When all the damage has been repaired, the Boys' Federation keeps the left-over money, saves it, and then buys the school a gift.

In the past, our school has been presented with drinking fountains, a record player, and radios for the school buses. Last year, the school received a much-needed gift, a new trophy case, which now stands in the upper hall holding our many, many, many championship trophies.

Girls' League

The Girls' League, having started in the year 1946, has this year completed another successful array of events. Miss Hostetter, their advisor, was a great help in making it the successful year it was.

Heading the Girls' League was Joan Anderson, president. The remaining cabinet officers were Pat Jackson, vice-president, Susan Williams, secretary, and Heather Cairns, treasurer. These girls, plus the class representatives and committee chairmen, met in monthly luncheon meetings to discuss and plan activities for the girls.

One of the main projects was to help sponsor the foreign exchange student, Morten Bakken. He came over from Norway in the late summer and left in early June. He took the college preparatory course and participated in many of the school functions. All the girls were very proud of the success of their project.

Another of the main, annual projects was caring for a little boy named Arthur Gonzales in Springville who was confined in bed because of tuberculosis. The girls on that particular committee visited him throughout the year and took him gifts for different occasions. The girls really did enjoy helping the boy and plan to keep him as the child project for next year.

Along with work all the girls enjoyed many delightful assemblies which were arranged by the social chairman. In the fall they had a woman who spoke about marriage and what opportunities a girl had, and at Christmas they had a program complete with Santa Claus. In the spring they were shown pictures of a trip around the world.

Girls' League will always stand out as one of the best service clubs of Lindsay High School.

One of the most active clubs in the high school is the Future Farmers of America. It never fails that the organization has some news in the Echoing L or in the daily bulletin. Besides being busy, the club is important as to the fact that while belonging to the club the boys are actually learning much about agriculture.

John Burr was the head farmer this year acting as president of the organization. Edward Hill was vice-president; Jack Stadtmiller, secretary; Danny Hults, treasurer; Orville White, chaplain; Jerry Parsons, sentinel; and Mike Marshall, recorder. Lamar Smith was the advisor.

In the Thanksgiving season, the club sold tickets for a turkey drawing. Their annual banquet was held in the early part of the year where many awards were given including the Honorary Chapter Farmer Awards.

In ten acres of land, the F.F.A. planted barley. They helped take care of the orange grove and did other interesting farming activities.

Lynne Nelson was sweetheart of the boys this year. She was chosen by a vote of all the F.F.A. members.

The club is called Future Farmers of America . . . but they are farmers right now!

F. H. A.

F. H. A., formed to become better acquainted with home life, its interests and improvements, has been humming with action under the leadership of Phyllis Staehly and the direction of Miss Burnett.

Among their activities are: serving and decorating for banquets, meeting with other girls from other towns to discuss current F. H. A. activities. There are hayrides, slave auctions and, of course, just regular hen parties.

Under the supervision of their new advisor, Miss Burnett, the organization flourished with a record number of fifty members enjoying the activities.

Meetings were scheduled for noontime but were not held on a regular basis.

We congratulate the F. H. A. because, although it is only in its third year of existence, it is one of the most active clubs in school!

Lindsay High is the proud possessor of one of our region's best bands, a crack marching unit whose high-stepping performances delighted many Lindsay-ites who listened to the group both at home and on the road. It brought to the halftimes of our local and away football games that extra touch that was the frosting on the cake to our many wins.

The "new look" was given to our band by Mr. Leroy Roach. Not only did he revamp the band's entertainment look, but he re-worked the classroom schedule so that band members were given more practice in sight reading, and positions were based on tests given once or twice every six weeks.

The band trip, an annual excursion, was financed by the group who sold fruit cakes and candy bars to numerous friends and relatives.

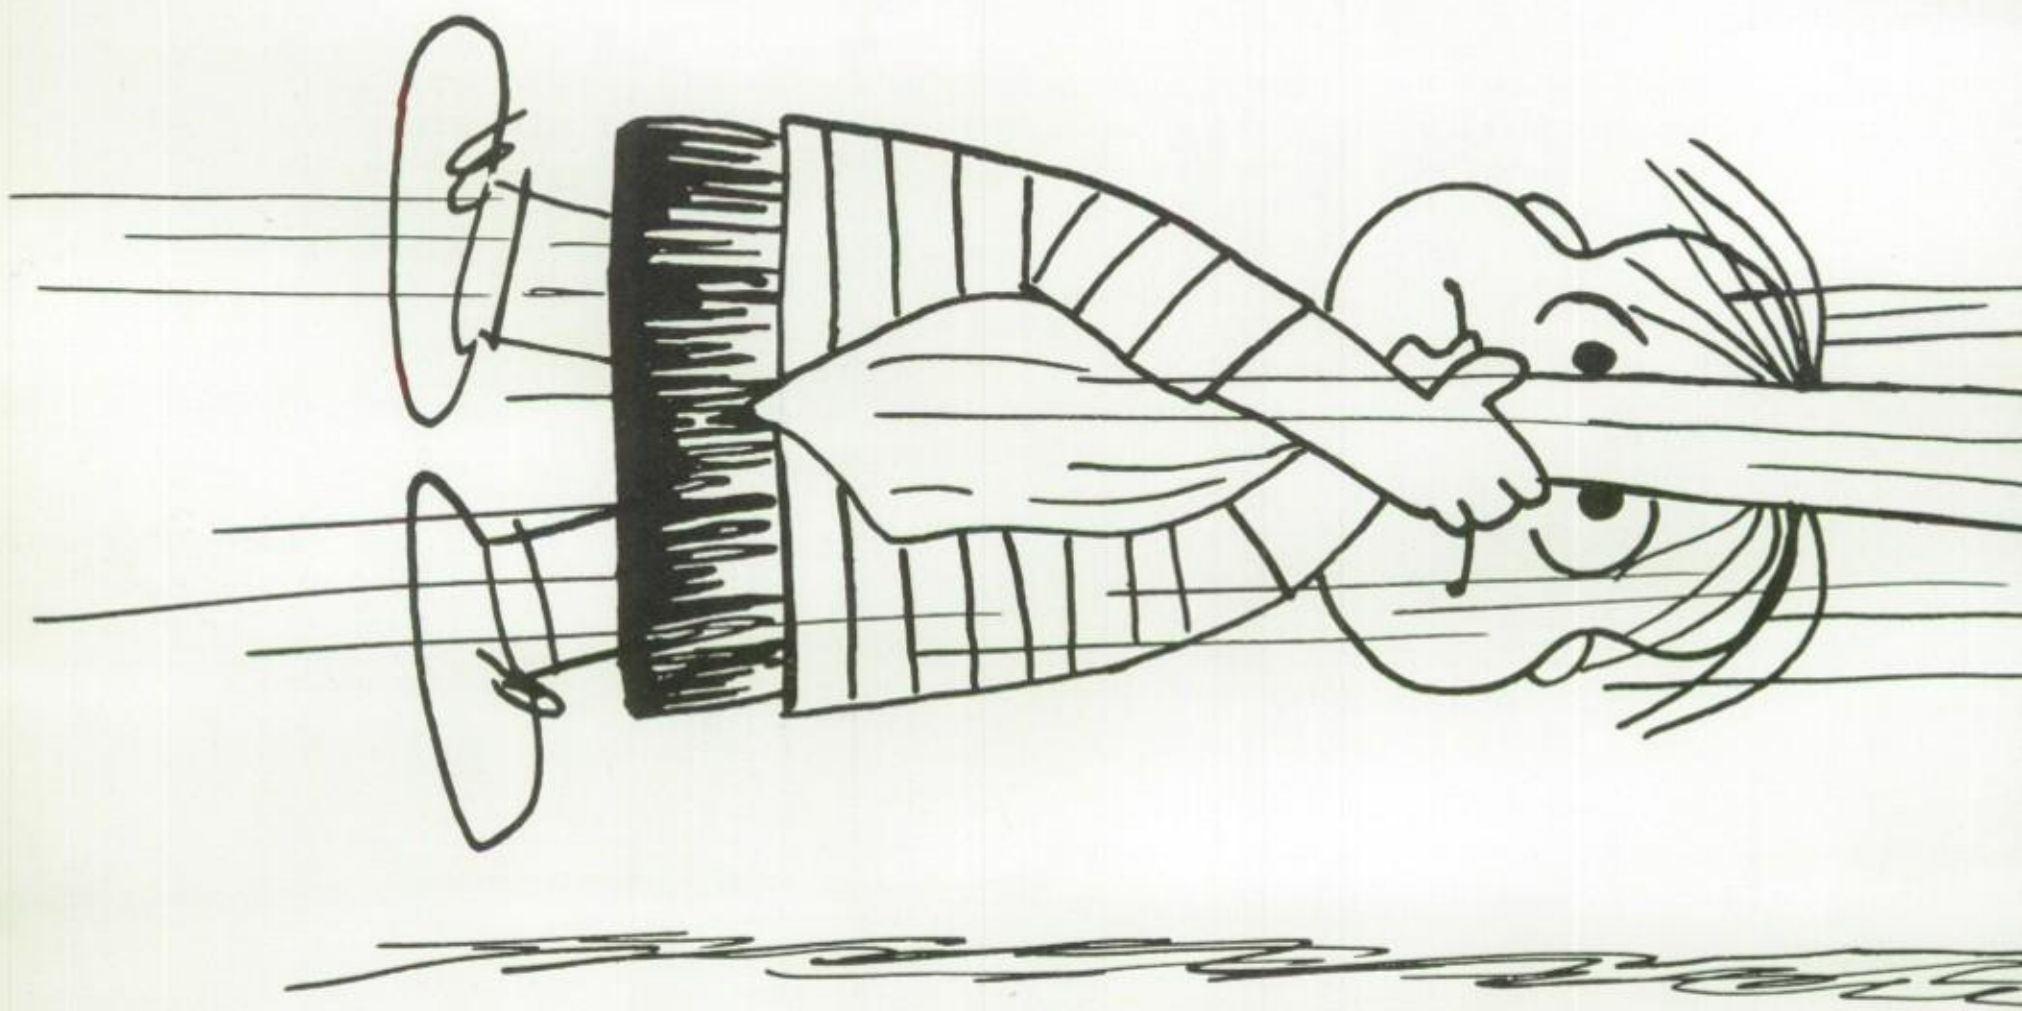

Some mention of the drill team and the majorettes should be made here, those hardy girls who braved freezing weather to perform for the crowds. Without their assistance, the elaborate routines and presentations would not have been possible.

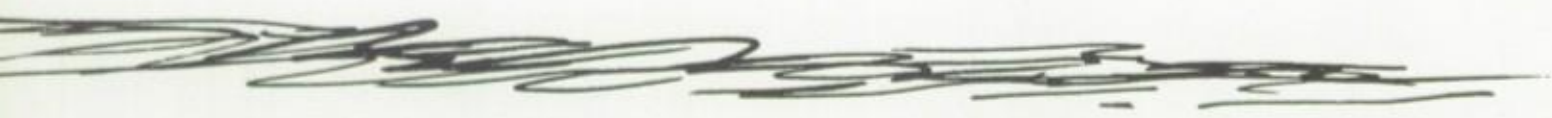

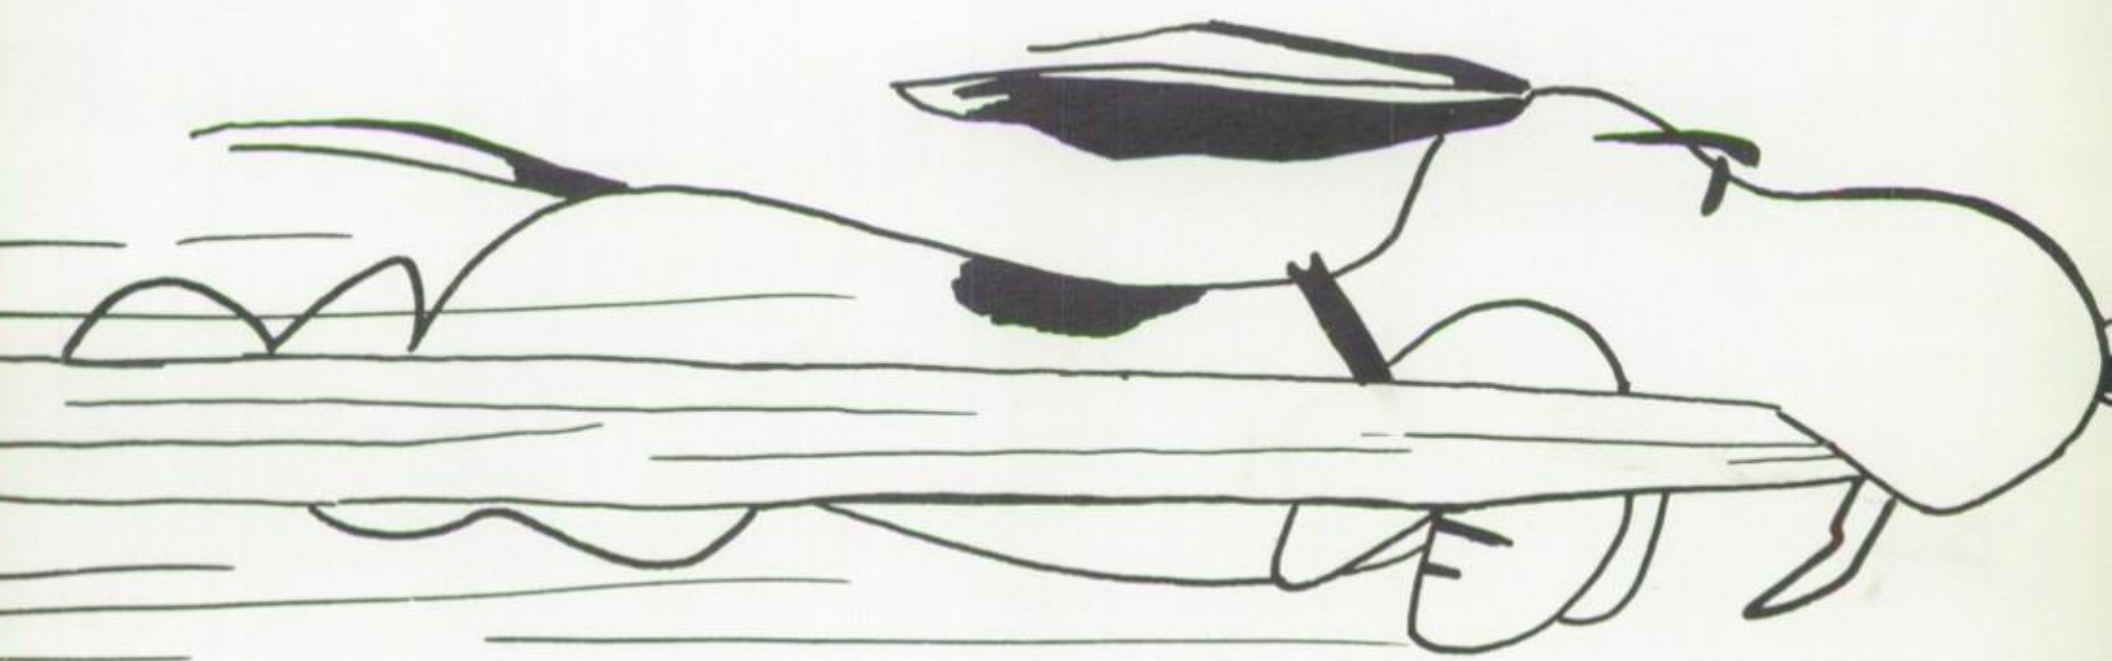

A salute should be given to the remodeled, streamlined band that gave Lindsay High a reputation for halftime musical excellence.

Activities

Nancy prompts an erring actor.

Bob seems to have said something horrifying, at least to Leonard and Don.

"Drums of Death"

Don't squash the shrunken head! was the motto when the Jr. Play, "Drums of Death," was presented January 16, 1960, in the High School Auditorium.

The play was cast from the Dramatics class, under the direction of Mrs. Mavis Boyes. The players included Bob Maynor, Leonard Borbon, Barbara Peters, Carolyn Parrish, Roberta McPhetridge, Sally Anderson, Benny Trujillo, Rita Borbon, Linda Stephens, Don Jones, and prop boys, Joe Drnek, and James Allen.

Leigh Howard, assisted by Marlene Noel, designed the setting where the action took place. The scene was the living room of the Bailey home, a half-ruined mansion on a desolate stretch of the Atlantic Coast and was accented by the beating of drums, mysterious apparitions and weird Haitian servants.

There he goes! Don't let him get away!

And a one, and a two and a three . . .

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" chronicled the adventures of two young American girls traveling to and living in pre-war France. Alone with only their money-belts, a desire to become "women of the world," and a fear of bedbugs to keep them company, the two girls forged blindly into many hilarious misadventures.

Emily, whose most constant fear was that the boat which was carrying them would sink, was the cause of their running into two horribly normal English girls who slapped everybody on the back shouting "buck up!"

Cornelia, who was busy being a femme fatale and charming two American boys, suddenly contracted the measles just before the boat docked and was smuggled off the boat wearing widow's weeds.

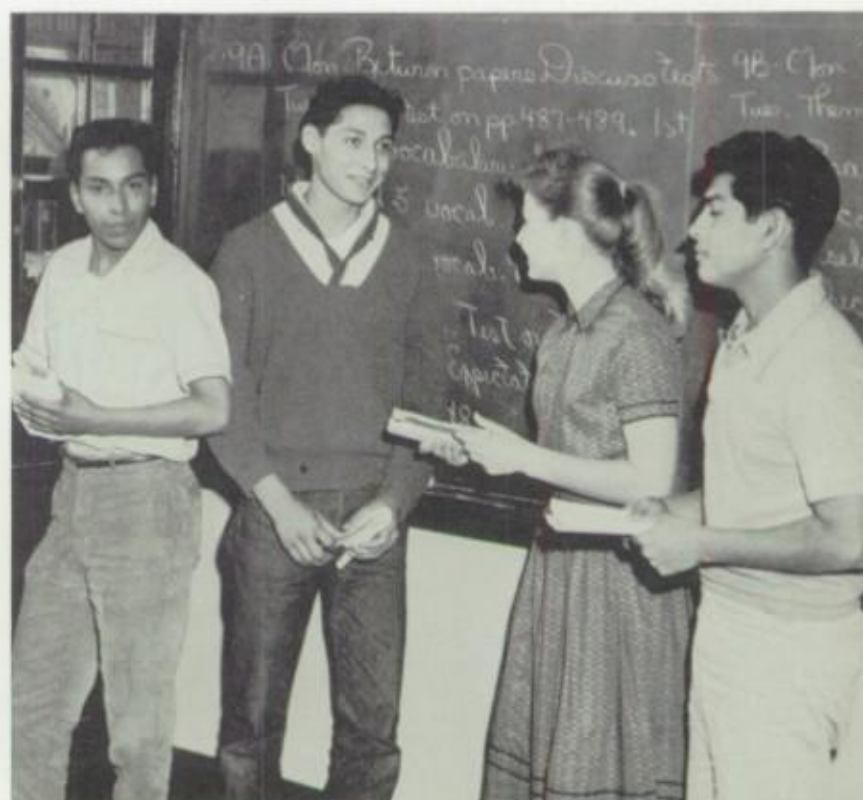

Starring in these wacky happenings were Phyllis Staehly as Emily and Roberta McPhetridge as Cornelia. Supporting players were: Leonard Borbon, James Allen, Carol Jessup, Jacob Montijo, Linda Stephens, Barbara Peters, Don Kaku, Leonard Olmos, Karen Lively, Don Jones, Marie Jolly, Janice Moore, Rosa Flores and Richard Cabello.

The production was directed by Mrs. Mavis Boyes.

Echoing L

1922 saw the first mimeographed Echoing L run off the presses into the waiting hands of the student body. However, the publication had trouble getting its start at LHS, and in 1928 conditions were not too favorable for its continuation. At the start of the 1927-28 school year, the Echoing L, was almost non-existing, but a great desire for the paper from the students brought the Echoing L back to life once more. In the middle of 1930, the paper was once more struck down, but 1936 brought the permanent resurrection of the paper. Since then, the mimeograph machine has been almost constantly turning out the Echoing L each school week.

The publishing date was changed from Friday to Tuesday to make the sports news more timely, and also this year, the Echoing L returned to the larger size more familiar to recent viewers.

Headed by editor Susan Webb and new advisor Mr. Donald Adamson, the publication combined entertainment and information in each weekly edition.

Key Club

In its second year of existence, the Key Club, which works in conjunction with the Kiwanis Club, unlocked many doors to fun, educational events and special activities. With Leonard Smith as chief locksmith, the club was always all keyed up.

During the year, the organization met on Tuesday noons for meetings. Very often the club heard speakers, and they brought many sessions of interest to the boys.

To be a Key Club member is a thing of honor. The qualifications for membership in the service club are scholarship, leadership and service to others. New members are voted in, and only the three top grades may join.

Terry Moore served as vice-president of the club. Other officers were John Burr, secretary; Bob Holmes, treasurer; and Morten Bakken, Bob Cordua, and Don Holve were class representatives to the Board of Directors.

Special events during the year included the selling of Christmas trees during the holiday season in order to earn money to sponsor a foreign student. A Career Day was held which included talks by several Lindsay businessmen. A Father-Son Banquet was held in the fall, and the club also sponsored several dances.

This club must have the key to success. They are only a new club, yet a very important part of Lindsay High School life.

Sports

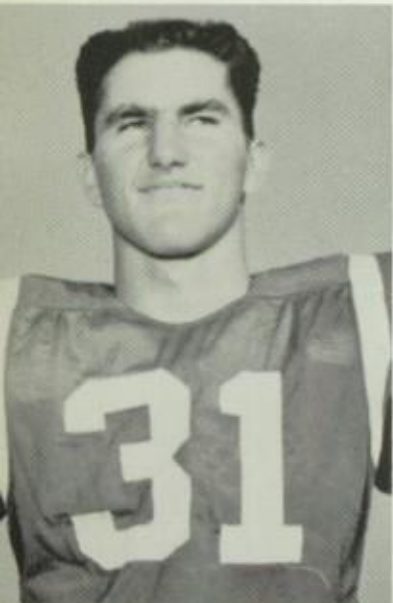

A Football

Now boys, this is a football.

RAY HEINMILLER
NICK CASTLE
BILL LOSH

Ho hum. We've done it again. Done what? Won still another football championship.

After being practically obliterated four weeks in succession by powerful non-league foes, the Cards rose up and smote mighty Avenal, previously considered a likely contender for the league crown. The next week the Cardinals exploded full force against Orosi serving notice that we were not the pushovers that we were originally made out to be.

McFarland was the next to question our superiority, but they were badly battered, bumped and bruised.

The always stubborn Strathmore strove strongly to stem the surging Cardinal tide in a desperate last-minute stand. However, the Red-birds splintered the Spartans.

And so the curtain fell on one of the most unusual epics in Lindsay High School's football annals.

It was an unusual season because our team was not given much chance to survive in the football world by back porch prophets and sports writers alike. And after our four practice defeats it seemed that doom was nigh. But the team pulled itself together and set forth upon the comeback trail.

Part of their amazing success was due to a new coach, Merle Flattley. He and his assistant, Robert Padilla, exhorted their team onward. The managers of the team, Danny Hults and David Matsumoto, the lads who run around with wet towels, bottles of water for exhausted players and limitless patience, also are deserving of a mention.

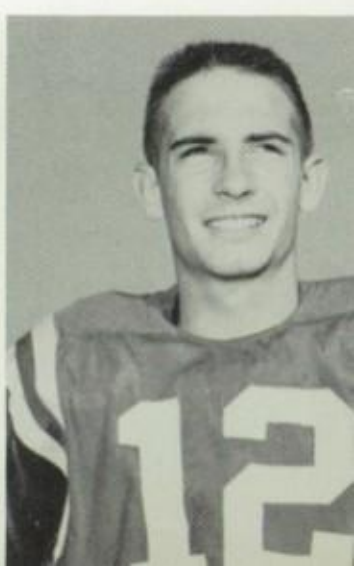

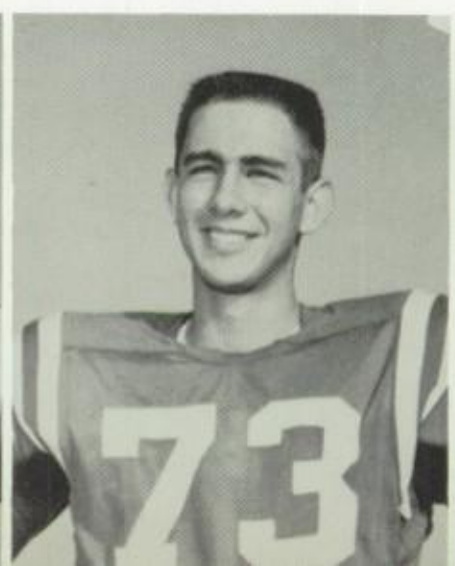

Lindsay High School's Cinderella team this year has set a record of which to be proud.

The little Redbirds fielded a rather inexperienced group this year with a record number of freshman boys out for the team. The season was a disappointing one in the games-won, games-lost record, but measured in terms of experience gained, it was a successful season.

Coaches "Mike" Maichrowicz and Morey Coles sweated over their fledglings teaching them where to go and what to do when they got there. This eventually began to pay off as the Cardettes led by captain Lee Choate gradually improved until the McFarland game when they emerged triumphant for the first time. However, they were unable to contain co-champion Strathmore.

One thing to their credit is that though they were behind many times, and sometimes by large scores, the littlest Cardinals never quit! Look out next year!

Following a shaky start, the Cardinal's varsity casaba crew roared through the 1959-60 season in fine style, thrashing all opponents save Avenal and Strathmore, the only teams able to best our Cards twice.

Our men started this season right where last year's championship squad left off. They won their first two games handily stopping McFarland 34-28 and coming from behind to nip Orosi 57-53. Then the big birds had their wings clipped on three successive flights by Avenal (40-26), Strathmore (44-27), and Woodlake (40-33).

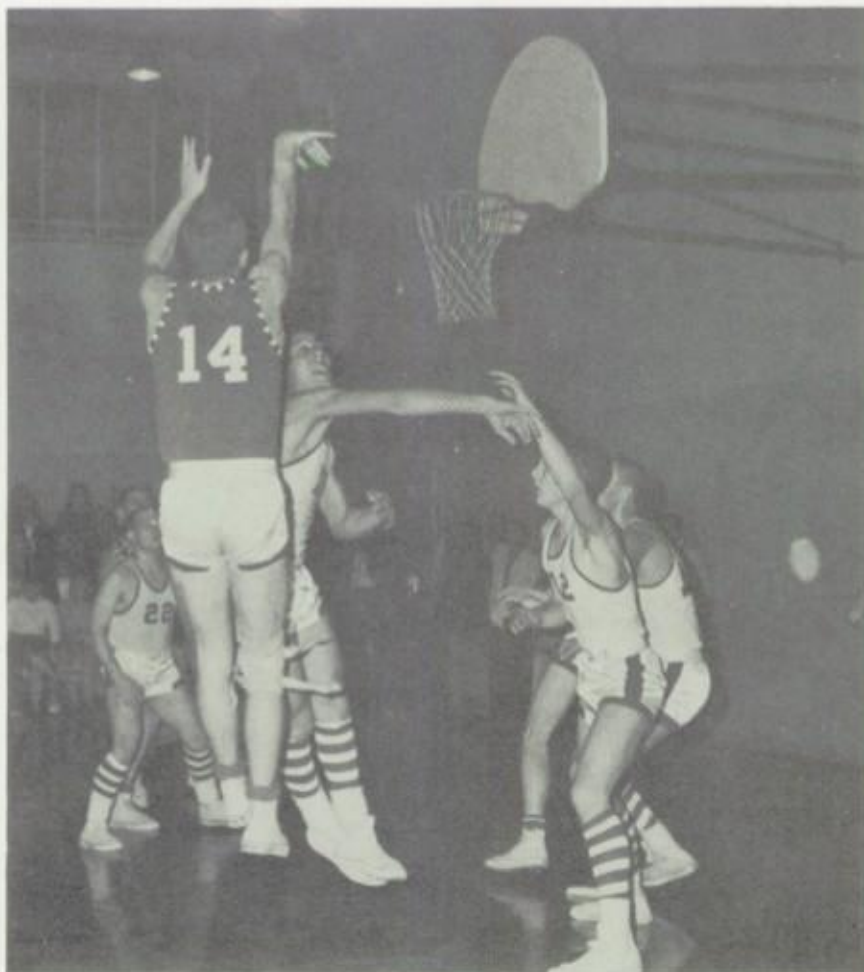

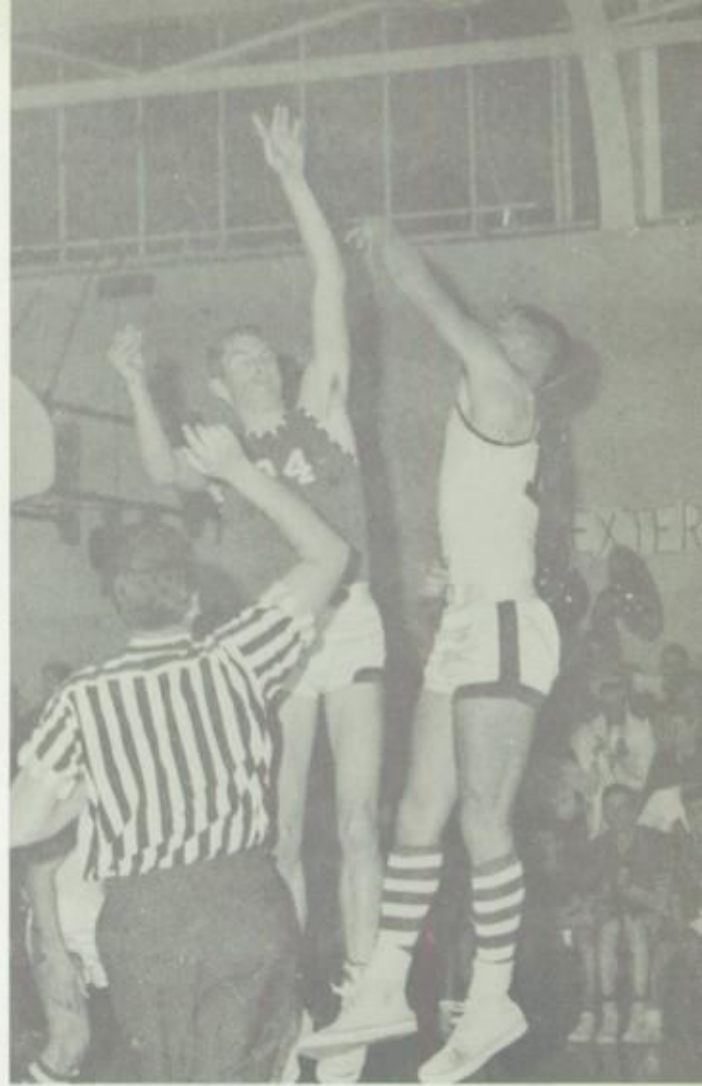

The Cardinals came back, however, to win seven of their last nine games and finished second in a tough, well-balanced league.

Alpaugh (47-45), Tulare Western (44-27), and McFarland (48-47) fell before Lindsay's sharpshooters before Avenal again prevailed, this time by the narrow margin of 34-31.

The Cards' momentum was slowed only momentarily, though, as they swept through their next four foes: Orosi (44-42), Tulare Western (51-31), Woodlake (42-34) and Alpaugh (51-37). Champion Strathmore again, however, proved too much to handle, and our Cards dropped the season finale, 75-39.

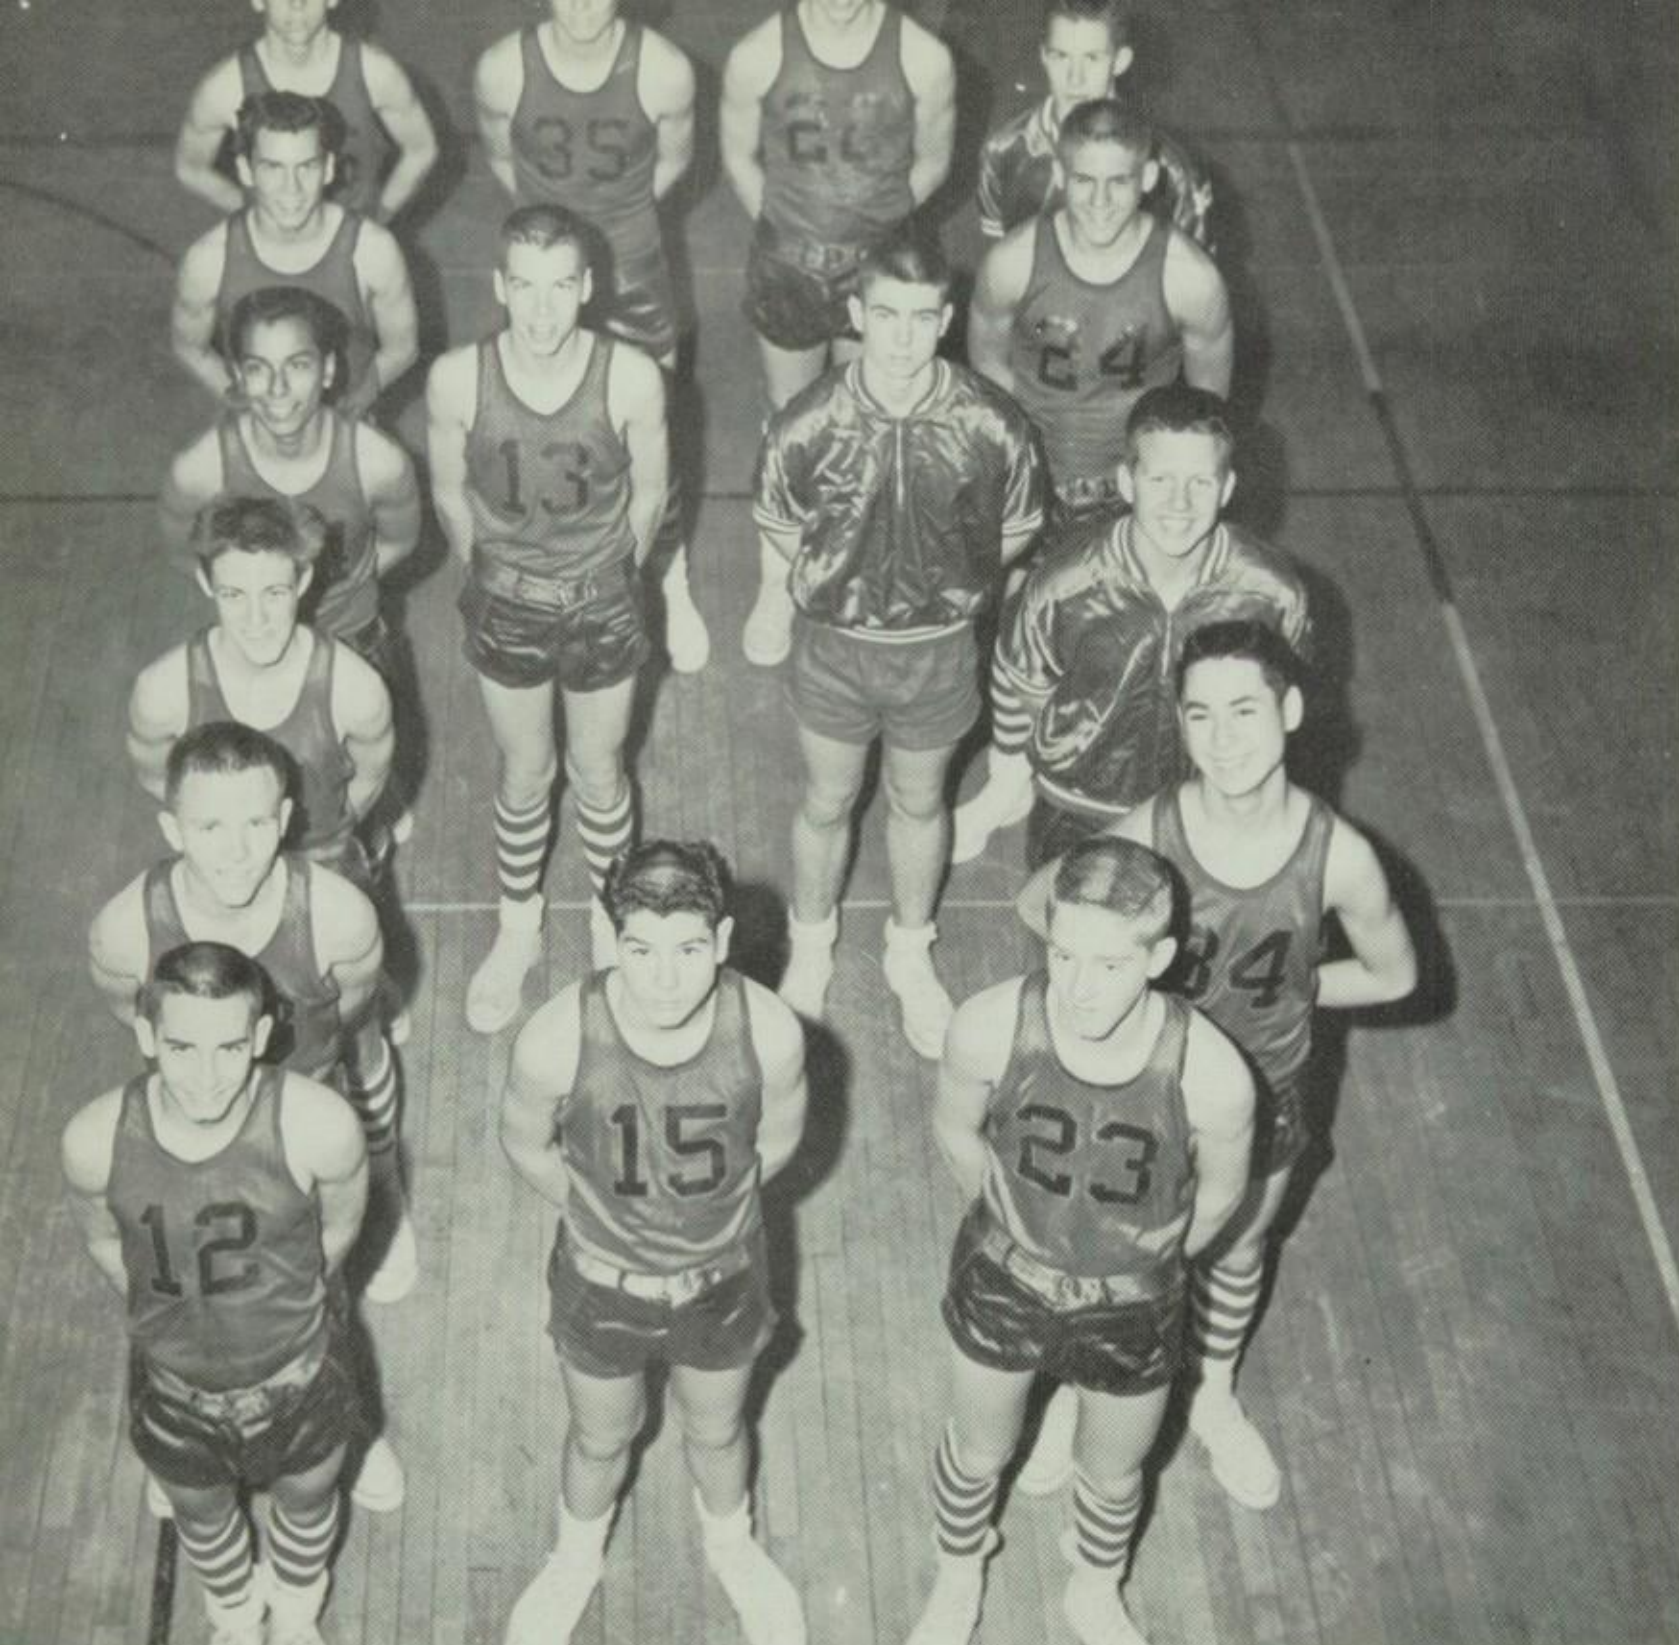

Coach Morey Coles can well be proud of his record since becoming varsity coach. His brain and sunny disposition were a big asset to the team.

Coach Merle Flattley and his B team adopted the motto "Brains" for the 1959-60 season. With one of the smoothest-working teams this area has seen for a long time, the Cardettes entered into the first round of league play with a shattering one point loss to McFarland, 30-31.

Their chief asset was an almost brilliant defense. This, combined with a deliberate offense, caused many a league opponent to give way under their steady pace. Erratic play had no place with this team who believed in excellence at all times.

Their second game, a victory over Orosi, 28-18, showed our team's potential and bolstered their morale after their first disappointing loss.

Avenal, Strathmore and Woodlake were our next three games. We lost by small margins, 16-28, 22-27, and 26-29 respectively.

Back once more on a winning streak, we clobbered successively: Alpaugh (39-27), and Tulare Western (35-22).

Once more we fell prey to McFarland and her one-point jinx: we lost in a heart-breaker, 32-33.

Although we finished with a lot of pressure, we were not able to close the gap between ourselves and the other Cardinals from Orosi. Again we lost, 25-30.

Our next four games were a joy to Coach Flattley and his team. We won all four, trouncing Tulare Western (35-9), Woodlake (46-37), Alpaugh (44-17) and chief rival Strathmore (25-23).

The 7-won, 7-lost record of our B team does not tell the complete story of their season. No record can. It does not show their excellent defense which held opponents' scoring down to the very minimum; nor does it show the great number of games lost by very small margins.

The Cardettes put up a creditable fight.

The fledglings' 1959-60 season can be summed up in one sentence. We won seven times as many games as we did last year.

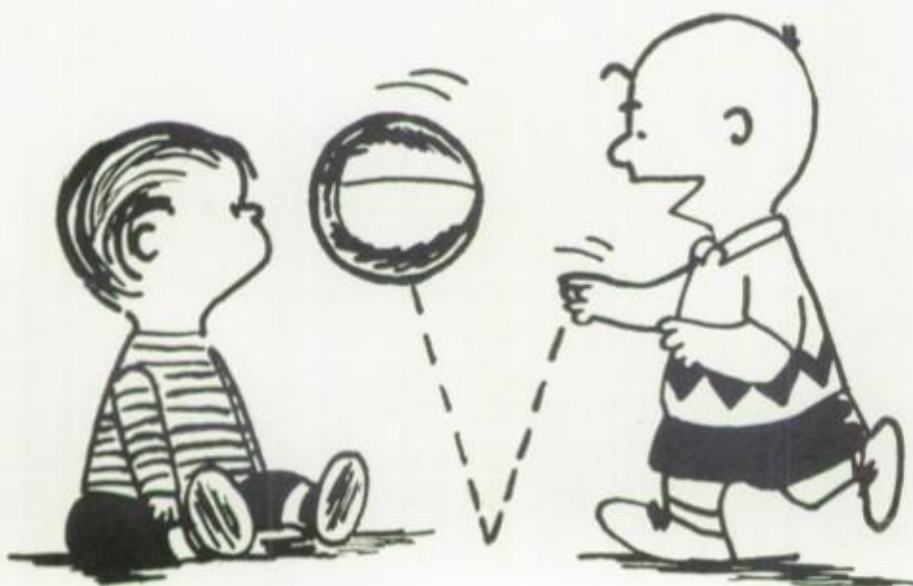

The littlest Cardinals got things started off right with a well-played win over McFarland, 27-16. After stumbling over Orosi 29-25, they again looked like championship contenders in downing Avenal 25-19. Then a dark brown curse of some sort fell upon our boys and they proceeded to fumble away three games in a row, Strathmore (31-21), Woodlake (28-23), and even lowly Tulare Western (26-22).

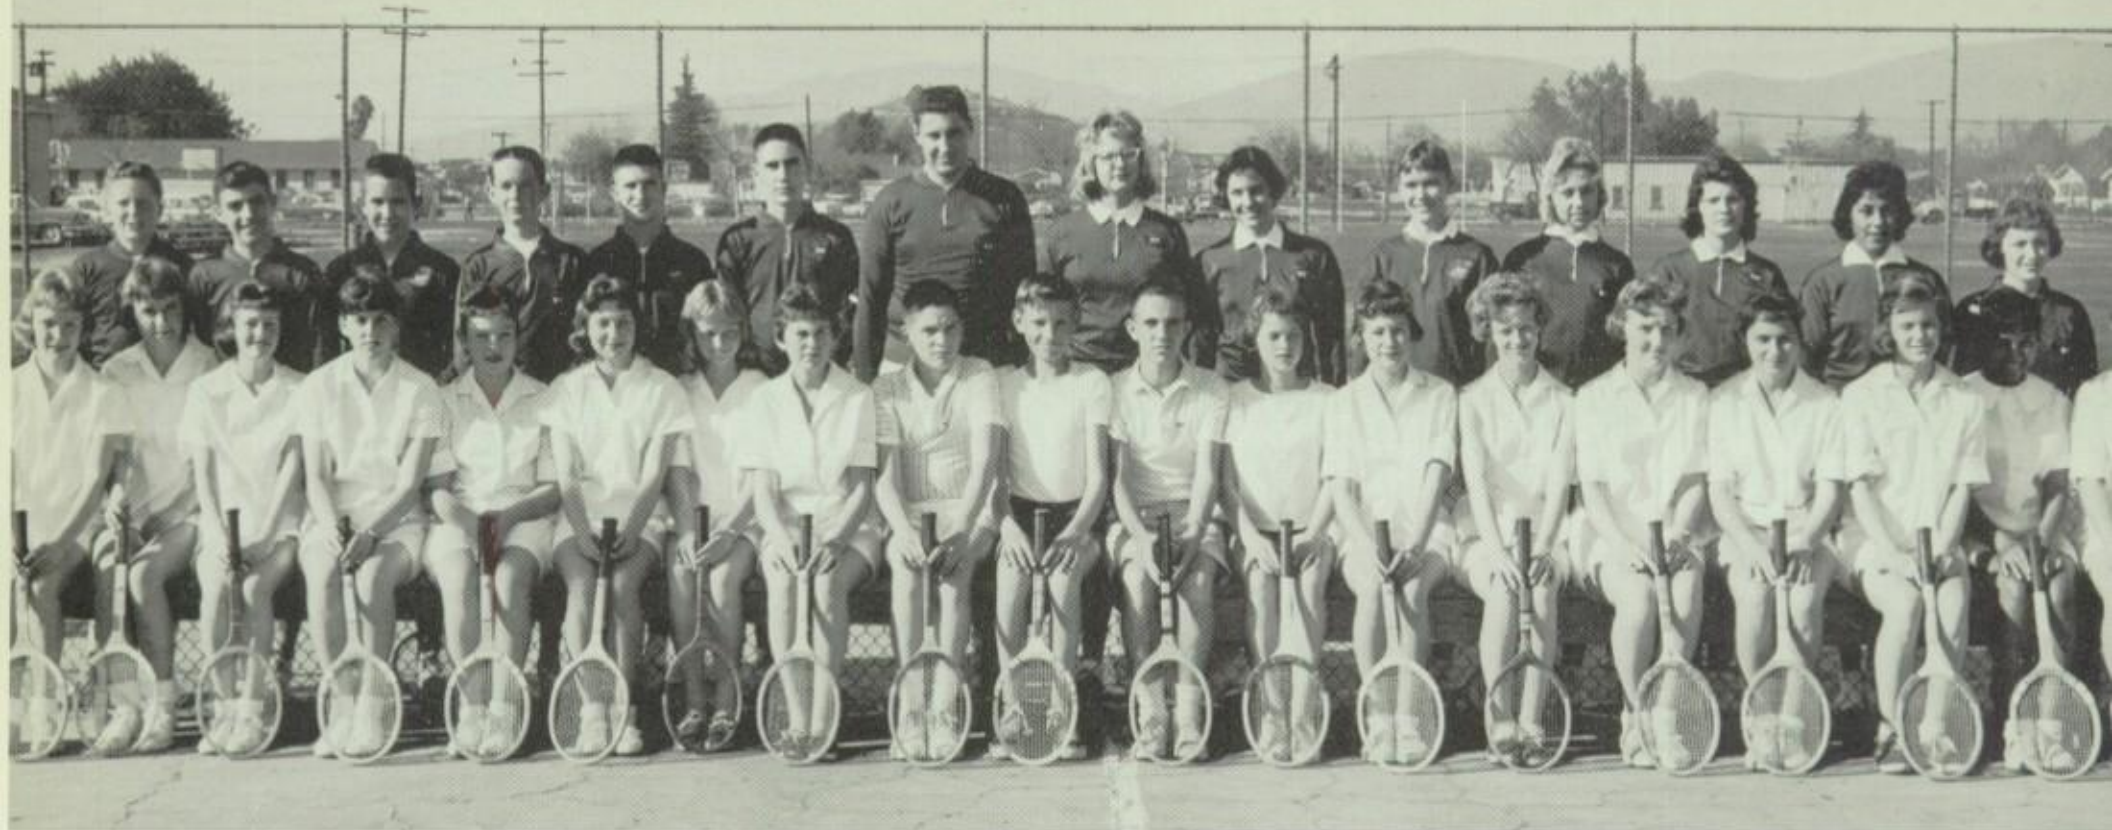

The first round record showed our team with only two wins and four losses, though they were nearly all by small margins.

With early season high hopes dashed, the team lay in the depths of degradation. With hung heads they faced the second round in last place.

Wow! Sparked by a 21 point performance by Noel Baker, the fledgling basketballers blasted McFarland 42-26. A miraculous metamorphosis had occurred. The little redbirds had again found the poise and fight they had lost in the early season. Avenal (34-24), Orosi (29-27, and Tulare (41-21), fell before the reborn Lindsay squad. Champion Woodlake managed to stave off defeat as our boys topped off a great second round with a 34-27 victory over rival Strathmore. Led by Captain Elvin Nichols and most valuable player Barry Smith, Coach Durbin's littlest redbirds have won their wings.

Lindsay High's underground operation was discovered again this year. Always in the courtroom on the offensive side against nearby towns, the racqueteers appeared on the scene.

Coaching the squad, who played in the alleys or out, Coach Cowser showed the racqueteers some of the tricks of the whole operation.

Her two top henchmen were Jack Stadtmiller and Susan Jessup, who were captains of the boys' and girls' sections. Other gangster friends were Susan Webb, Delbert Powell, Jacquie Babbitt and returning senior lettermen.

The prospects for this daring life of crime (?) numbered in the twenties—all learning the steps to the top by perfecting their dexterity at their weapons—the backhand, forehand and serve.

Swimming

Coach "Mike" Maichrowicz.

March was greeted by shrill cries of joy from the swimming team because the arrival of this month meant that once more the swim season was upon us. Gaily the swimmers tramped out to the Lindsay pool ready to run out around the hospital, do deep-knee bends 500 times and swim 150 laps a day.

The Lindsay pool was cleaned, sanded and repainted. However Coach "Mike" Maichrowicz refused to let a heating system be installed; his theory being that our swimmers swim faster in a race with the cold water (they swim fast in order to get out more quickly).

This year Lindsay's splashers were moved up into the Southern Sequoia League, a larger league for our school. To get his team into good swimming shape so they could cope with the big move, Coach "Mike" started his swimmers working as early as March. Mercifully he kept them out of the cold water as much as possible by substituting exercises and running. Some days the team's running consisted of only a few laps around the pool, while other days the team ran around the park, out around the Memorial Building, and back around the pool ten or twelve times. No wonder they welcomed the water, cold or not.

All this pre-season training (called "torture" by some) DID pay off. Sparked by one of the strongest B class teams Lindsay has ever had, the club swept over all their opponents, including some from larger leagues. A record number of turnouts for the girls' team assisted in these victories.

Coach "Mike" supervised his wetbacks and helped them along in their tough, exciting races by shouting words of encouragement ("Come on, you hamburgers"). His skill in taking raw material and turning out seasoned teams is without equal.

As a matter of fact, I think that everybody in school should go up to a swimmer and congratulate him. Of course you know how to recognize a swimmer. He's that fellow with the blue complexion that's standing over in the corner still shivering and shaking.

I knew they should have installed that heating system.

Last one in has to swim 150 laps!

Such a pretty dive. Too bad they emptied the pool yesterday.

How many more miles to Australia, Mike?

Junior Varsity Baseball

I can't tell if he's safe or not with all this dirt in my eye.

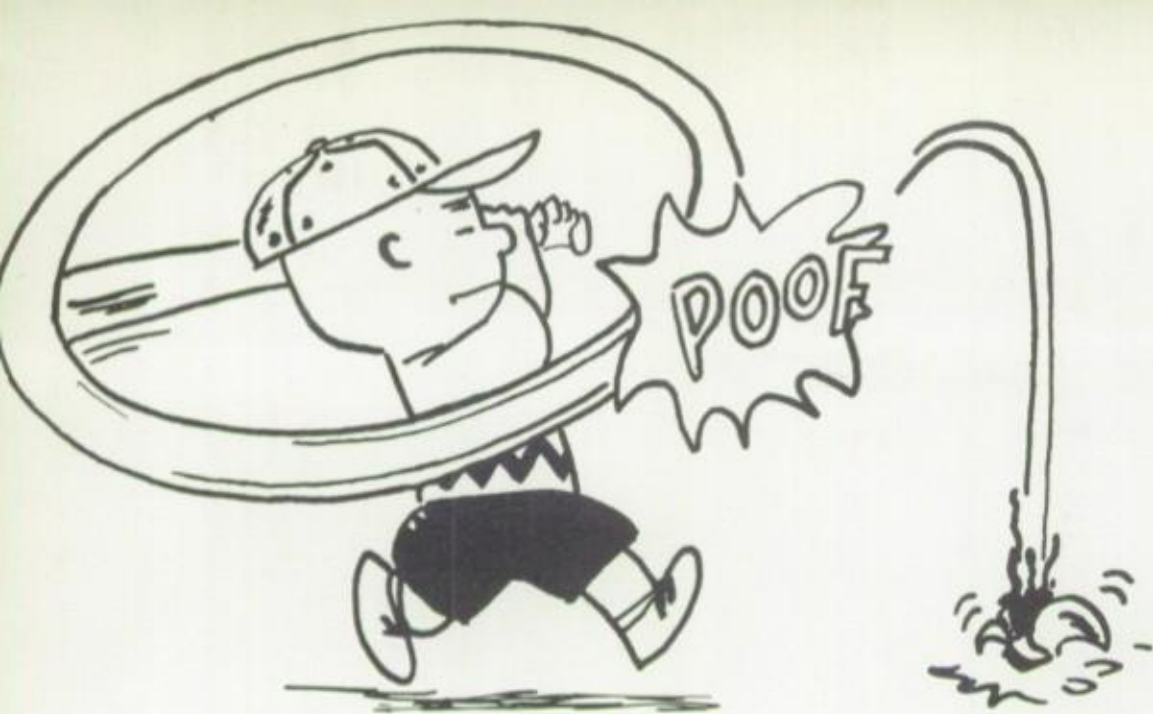

If a person just happened to be walking out by the junior varsity baseball field he could see the unusual birds that catch flies. Just what are these creatures that flock on the field? Cardinal outfielders!

Our feathered friends played well the entire season with other nests in the league. Each player, good with a bat when either hitting some runs, fowling out or trying to duck the ball, scored heavily so the team won most of their games.

The entire flock was led by Coach Merle Flattley. The Cardinals winged their way to the top with both a good infield and outfield. It was a happy day in Birdland when the J.V.'s won a game. Tweet.

Varsity Baseball

Number 35 rolled off the assembly bench this year. The thirty-fifth baseball team for Coach Frank Skadan, that is.

Re-enforced by many returning lettermen from last year's championship team, the current sluggers started off at a definite advantage.

Since this was Coach Skadan's last year, the team tried their hardest to make it a memorable one.

Strong pitching power took care of most of the opponents at bat. Once in a while, though, a hit did slip through. This was speedily taken care of by our faster-than-light fielding.

As a mater of fact, America's first sputnik was launched by a Lindsay High pitcher.

Even Cape Canaveral can't equal us.

Track

Once more the patter of little (?) feet was heard around Lindsay High School, a sure sign of spring.

Coach Vernon Bridges' thinclads once again showed themselves superior in local league play. Following in the footsteps of last years' championship team, our team this year set an enviable record.

Pole-vaulters, hurdlers, all met at track meets to determine the best in their field. We had many outstanding participants in these meets, especially in the long distance running.

This year, due to the Winter Olympics held in Squaw Valley, a signal honor was accorded one of our trackmen, Bill Rowland. Chose by Coach Bridges to represent Lindsay, Bill carried the Olympic torch for a mile and handed it over to another runner. Relays of high school students carried the torch from Los Angeles to the site of the historic Olympics.

Remember the patter of little feet I told you about? Well, don't get too near.

They're spiked.
